

Seldat Technology Services Announces Technology Outsourcing Offerings

Sep 14, 2018

South Plainfield, NJ, September 13, 2018 - Seldat Technology Services, a leading provider of technology-based global supply chain solutions, has expanded its offerings by introducing outsourcing services, including Business Process Outsourcing, IT Staffing Services and Custom Software Development, for companies involved in supply chain and logistics businesses.

The first offering from Seldat Technology Services is Business Process Outsourcing (BPO). This is a very popular option for streamlining operational activities while reducing costs. Their logistics data entry and processing, document management (scanning and archiving, image processing) and call center services gives customers reliable productivity, accuracy in data entry, and fast turn-around times. This saves the customer from going through the complex process of recruiting, training and resource management.

The second offering is IT staffing. Seldat recruits and fills positions ranging from applications/software development engineers, systems architects, network analysts and IT management. They use a detailed vetting process to source the best people, which ensures their customers hire the right person for the job and company culture. Their recruiters provide high-performance resources with varying skill sets in the most popular technologies and frameworks on the market today.

The third offering is custom software development. Seldat understands that building modern applications requires an advanced skill set in next-generation software engineering, and works with management teams who have the idea, but not the resources. Seldat designs and delivers intelligent software solutions that transform business models, modernize operations, enhance customer experiences, and fuel growth.

“Our customers use our outsourcing services so they have more time to build a sustainable competitive advantage. We work on their requirements while they focus on core business activities,” says Chacko Verghese, CTO, Seldat Technology Services. “We bring to life their vision by partnering with them to develop, implement and manage their project needs. With new tariff laws and the holiday season around the corner, now is a great time to get the help needed to streamline operations and increase profitability.”

Seldat offers three shifts, 24 hours a day, seven days a week and gives guaranteed turnaround times. All work is validated for accuracy, and saves approximately 50% on operational costs coupled with overall enhanced performance.
